

- Mother solo raised me. Father unknown (either a celestiel or mother was impregnated by heavenly powers.)
- Discovered healing powers at a young age, therefore my mother sent me to study at a monastery where i learned the way of mercy. The temple worshipped Chauntea(<https://forgottenrealms.fandom.com/wiki/Chauntea>) , although im not as religious i still respect her teaching. I still saw my mother often tho.
- I got a mask, it looks like a raven, half of it white, half of it black. (yin yan type shit) The Mask matches my robes, which too is a mix of black and white mixing at the back. When the mask is worn the eye on the black part turn red and the eye on the white part turns glowing white.
- after i reached the age of 20 i was sent on a journey to see the world and it's nature, and help those who need.
- Discovered that the way he gave life, he can reverse and take it too. Accepted the balance of it. This was taught by his master called master Uhuda. Uhada is an elf monk of the monastery, and is sort of a father figure. Passed down his own wraps to him.
- Clear determination to maintain balance in the world.
